

Paro Paro Profile

Faye Maramara is the principle designer and owner of Paro Paro and draws inspiration from ancient and contemporary cultures of art and expression.

Faye is always on the lookout for unique concepts and is inspired by natural encounters of everyday life. Influenced by the fascinating world around her, Faye believes fashion exists everywhere. It has to do with ideas, the way we live and what surrounds us. Faye wants to take clients on a constant journey with her creations.

Her cultural background, a beautiful mix of the Philippines and Australia means east meets west in her design process and the result is striking.

Over the last 6 years Faye has collaborated with some of Australia's leading fashion designers including Veronika Maine, Collette Dinnigan, Gorman, Sally Smith, Peter Lang and Kirrily Johnston.

Paro Paro designs are also widely sought after by some of Australia's leading fashion editors and stylists. Faye's stylish designs have featured in the 2009 L'Oreal Melbourne Fashion Festival presented by Grazia, Madison magazine, Shop till you Drop magazine, In Style magazine, The Good Weekend newspaper, Woman's Day magazine, The Financial Review newspaper and Woman's Weekly magazine.

Faye is recently on the July 19th edition of Grazia magazine and August 2nd for Womans Day magazine. Her jewellery will also be shown on Channel 7 adorned on Rachel Finch for a travel programme in August and is a guest speaker for Fastbreak in conjunction with Sydney design about her story on the 30th July 2010.

You will also be able to view her exclusive designs for Veronika Maine this August 2010 in all of their stores nationally and in New Zealand.
